CARDINAL GIBBONS DEAD

END CAME PEACEFULLY TODAY IT 87TH YEAR

(By Associated Press)
BALTIMORE, Md., March 24.—James Cardinal Gibbons, archbishop of the Baltimore Primate American Catholic church, died at the arch-episcopal residence here after a prolonged illness which mainly affected his heart. He was in his eighty-seventh year. The end came peacefully at 11:33 a. m.

Cardinal Gibbons had been unconscious and in a dying condition for the last 24 hours. Slight hope was raised among his friends and associates last evening when his pulse grew stronger, but the rally was only temporary, being merely an evidence of the cardinal's remarkable vitality.

A touching incident in connection with the last hours of the cardinal was the bestowal of the pope's benediction upon which, which had just been received by cable from Rome. His service extended over a half century. His ambition for the priesthood began in the early days. At 21 he began preparations for his service in the Roman Catholic church. Graduating with distinguished honor from historic St. Charles college in Maryland, he pursued his studies at the seminary of St. Sulpice and St. Mary's university in Baltimore. At the outbreak of the civil war, he was ordained to the priesthood in Baltimore. He was 27 years old. His heart was moved by the tragedy he witnessed and throughout life he was strongly opposed to war.

At the close of the Civil war, Father Gibbons became private secretary to Archbishop Spalding and was appointed chancellor of the diocese. Through strength of character he rapidly won his way. He was elected assistant chancellor to the second plenary council at Baltimore in 1886. Two years later the young priest was translated to North Carolina where he served as titular bishop and first vicar apostolic. His record in the southern state is remarkable. He traveled among the people from the sea to the mountains, eating from bare boards and sleeping in shabby cabins. Thus, it is said, he made the personal acquaintance of every adult Roman Catholic in North Carolina. He built six churches, established the Sisters of Mercy and built for them a school for negroes and whites.

The hardworking young bishop was sent to Richmond in 1872. He built and enlarged schools, asylums and churches in Richmond, Petersburg and Portsmouth. His untiring labor attracted the attention of Archbishop Bayley of the Baltimore diocese. Through his influence, Bishop Gibbons became his coadjutor. A few months later Archbishop Bayley died. Bishop Gibbons—43 years of age—became archbishop of the diocese, then the highest dignitary of the Roman Catholic church in the United States.

As archbishop, he headed the delegation of American prelates to Rome in 1883. He outlined their plans for the third plenary council to be held the next year. Pope Leo XIII appointed him to preside over the council. He directed the enactment of many new decrees which were favorably approved by the ecclesiastical authorities.

The brilliant executive ability of Archbishop Gibbons was immediately recognized. He was created a cardinal, a prince of the church, a quarter century after he had entered the priesthood. This was in 1888—he was then 52 years of age.

The impressive ceremonies took place in his home city and cathedral in Baltimore. In the presence of hierarchy of the church, Cardinal Gibbons was clothed in the insignia of the office. He arrived in Rome the following year and received the apostolic blessing and admission into the college of cardinals, the twenty-fifth in succession.

Cardinal Gibbons celebrated the centenary of the founding of the Catholic church in the United States in 1914. He convened the first convocation of Catholic laymen in the United States in the same year. He later

Nixon, of Nevada, who was instantly killed here last night, was driving his automobile on the wrong side of the street at a high rate of speed when it struck a sewer trench in front of a new cottage near the center of Salinas, according to Coroner J. STATE REPAIRS ROAD TO 5-MILE

Foreman Weingarth, and Truck Drivers Murphy, Jones and Bingham returned today from Clark, east of Tonopah, where they have been working on the state highway through the Toyabe national forest. The work occupied about three weeks and consisted of dragging, blading and removing rocks. Some parts of the road were left in rough condition at the time the road was built. The equipment used was three Nash trucks, an 8-foot grader, three-way drags, a Fordson tractor and Fresno scrapers.

This section of highway, which was built by the bureau of public roads in 1920, is 15 miles long, and if properly maintained, is one of the best dirt roads in the state.

GIANT DIVIDE LEDGE MATTER SHOWING GOOD

This morning the editor of The Bonanza and the editor of The Tonopah Miner, with others, made an underground examination on the lower level of the Giant Divide mine and its present development being carried forward on the 450-foot level, the west crosscut of which has reached a distance of 250 feet from the 450-foot level, shows ledge matter for 14 feet from the hanging wall to the face of the crosscut, the footwall not having been encountered to date. The tale and seams of ore are increasing in value each day. From a trace, a few feet back, the face assayed $4.80 yesterday. This value is very encouraging on account of the ledge matter being an oxidation and in character resembles the Tonopah Divide and Divide Extension ore. The depth of 450 feet from the surface and the ledge matter encountered is evidence of a rich body of ore to be opened up. After reaching the footwall of the new find, the management will begin to drift both ways on the ledge and will crosscut every 25 feet. The southeast crosscut from the bottom level is undergoing formation change and when the big dyke on the surface is cut, which is 50 feet ahead of the face, it is expected commercial values will be found. The Giant plant is one of the most substantial ones in the Divide district. The present plant is powerful enough to go to the 1000-foot level. Considerable of the Giant stock has changed hands in the last 10 days, but today shows the holders are sitting tight awaiting developments.

The Giant surely has the earmarks of making a big producer.
